Trial Introductory Flight

If you have always wanted to learn to fly but thought you would like to find out more, then you should consider undertaking a Trial Introductory Flight.

Moorabbin Aviation Services offers two introductory flights. One is a forty minute flight to get a feel for what it's like to learn to fly. The other is a one hour flight that introduces you to the handling of the aircraft.

40 minute introductory flight

This flight takes the form of a forty minute "mini" flying lesson. You'll fly with a professional flying instructor in a fully certified training aircraft. If you feel comfortable, you will actually do most of the flying during the flight as well! In addition to the flight we will explain the pre-flight inspection, get you to help the pilot check the aircraft, and then you can run through the checklists before you start the engine!

$170 for a forty minute flight - plus you receive a voucher valued at $20 to use towards your first lesson.

1 hour introductory flight

If you are really keen to see what learning to fly is all about then this flight gives you an excellent introduction.
The additional time in the air allows greater detail to be given on how to control the aircraft and more opportunity to put into practice the skills you've just learnt. All this while taking in the view from several thousand feet up!

$260 for a one hour flight - plus you receive a voucher valued at $40 to use towards your first lesson.
